The screenshot shows the YouTube webcam recording interface. A video player is in the center, displaying an "Adobe Flash Player Settings" dialog box. The dialog box has "Allow" selected and "Remember" checked. A red arrow points from the "Allow" button to the text "1. Click 'Allow' to activate your webcam." Below the video player, there is a "Start Recording" button with a red dot, and an "Upload" button. A red arrow points from the "Start Recording" button to the text "2. Click here to start and stop recording." Another red arrow points from the "Upload" button to the text "3. Click Upload". At the bottom of the interface, there is a note: "Use the tool to record a YouTube video instantly via your computer's webcam. For more details, please see here. Make sure your webcam is installed and working correctly. Did you mean to upload an existing video from your computer?"

The screenshot shows the YouTube video settings page for a video titled "Webcam video from March 27, 2013 1:37 PM". The page is divided into "Basic Info" and "Advanced Settings" tabs. The "Basic Info" tab is active. The "Title" field contains "Webcam video from March 27, 2013 1:37 PM" and is highlighted with a red arrow pointing to the text "1. Put your name in the Title". The "Description" field is empty. The "Tags" field contains "webcam" and "video". The "Privacy Settings" dropdown is set to "Public". The "Post to your subscribers" section has a "Customize your message" field. The "Also share to" section has checkboxes for Facebook and Twitter. The "Category" dropdown is set to "People & Blogs". At the bottom, there is a "Save changes" button and a "Cancel" button. A red arrow points from the "Save changes" button to the text "2. Click 'save changes'". In the top right corner, there is a "Sign out" button with a red arrow pointing to it and the text "3. Sign out".
